

We have counted on the FCC and our Government to be reliable sources of truth and direction. Hearing now about mega-corporations and "clubs" buying up all the airwaves, I look to alternate media sources I feel I can trust. Does FCC think we're all stupid?